Nativity Bags

We hope you were able to make use of the nativity bags we sent out before Christmas. If you have any suggestions for them for next year please let us know.

We are still missing one of them so if you still have it at home please could it be returned. Two of the bags we have received back have the small red nativity boxes missing from them. Please could you have a search to see if they are still in your houses, they are small so could have been easily missed.
