

Thought of the week

'Like snow in summer and like rain in harvest, So honour is not fitting for a fool.'
Proverbs 26:1

Weather last week

Thank you very much for bearing with us last week in the snow. It was very useful that everyone checked text messages, or looked at the NYCC website for openings and were also prompt in letting school know if you were unable to get to school. It makes the system run much smoother and is much appreciated.

Reminders

- Please make sure there is a member of staff in the playground before you leave your child on a morning – there is a member of staff outside from 8.35am and until there is a member of staff present it is up to you to ensure the safety of your children on site.
- Please ensure that all Parentpay accounts are up to date – if anyone needs assistance with anything relating to Parentpay please contact the school office.

Ballet

Last year we organised a trip after school to Bridlington Spa to see the ballet. This year the date unfortunately falls in SATS week so we will not be organising a trip – however if anyone is interested we have leaflets in the office and would really recommend a trip – it is on Tuesday 15th May at 5pm and tickets are £6 for an adult £5 for a child and is 'Ugly Duckling'.

Book Day

Our book day dress up day has been rescheduled to Friday this week.

Sandwich option at lunchtime

Mrs Ellis is considering a sandwich option at lunchtime for the children. They would get a full sandwich, sausage roll (or veggie equivalent), vegetable sticks and the pudding of the day. There would be set fillings on set days and we would need to know from parents in advance for the week if your child were to take up this option. Please can you let the school office know if this is a service you would take up, is this a good idea with the current lunch arrangements? We would really appreciate your feedback.

Parent's Evening Appointments

Parent's evening appointments are rescheduled to this week at the same time. If you are unable to make these appointments please confirm this and we can try to rearrange.
