

Thought for the week

"I try and show everyone what can happen if you overcome adversity and keep trying to do the right things. Stick to some key skills honesty, respect, determination – and eventually you'll be able to achieve your dreams"
Jack Rutter - Football 7-A-Side – Paralympic 2016 team GB

Roald Dahl Day

We hope your children enjoyed our Roald Dahl Day last week, we had a lovely day taking part in various themed activities.

Menu change – tomorrow (Tuesday) Mrs Marklew will be serving meatballs with pasta rather than rice.

Class 1 – A reminder that Thursday's are library morning for class one, first thing after registration if parents/grandparents would be able to stay you are most welcome.

Confirmation classes

Reverend Walker has contacted us to say he is willing to take confirmation classes in school. If anybody is interested in this please let Mrs Towse know.

Missing cardigan

Please could you have a quick check of the uniform cardigans you may have at home to see if you may possibly have a size 32 cardigan that isn't your child's. We have one that has gone missing. Many thanks.

School photos

We had Richard in school to take individual and family photos last week, and you should have received the proofs of those photos on Friday. Please could any orders be sent back into the school office by Friday of this week ready for collection. As this is the first time Richard has been to school, we would welcome any feedback from parents please, good or bad. Richard will be back with us in the spring term to take class photos, so if anyone would like some family photos done then there is another opportunity. Many thanks.
